DYNAMITE® DOES Make a Difference

Patrice & Cyrus

Dear DYNAMITE®,

I just have to tell you about the success I have had with my wonderful long haired AKC Selah German Shepherd dog Cyrus. At 22 months old, Cyrus stands 31" and weighs in at 130lbs with more maturing to do. He was preliminary X-rayed at 1 year and his hips were great then. We are expecting him to be officially OFA'd as soon as he turns 2 in Feb. 2005 after which he is expected to sire a number of litters. He is so in shape and energetic that it makes me know that I have done some things right when it comes to his nutritional needs.

Knowing that he is a large breed shepherd, I paid close attention early on to his need for extra joint and muscle support and the need for complete quality in his diet. I was introduced to DYNAMITE® about a year ago, and I really felt like a window had opened up for Cyrus (and my horses). I added canine FREE & EASY™ AND SHOWDOWN® for the extra support for his joints and muscles, plus probiotics (DYNAPRO™) for nutritional deliverance. Cyrus has never been sick and has developed into a strong, energetic, happy, and healthy boy. I was asked by a friend if Cyrus has any skin problems, which can be common in GSD's, and I was happy to answer no.

Cyrus' breeder was so impressed by Cyrus that she started her bitches on the BREEDER FORMULA SHOWDOWN® resulting in large thriving litters, puppies with a stronger immunity, bitches with great milk production and a quick recovery from delivery. Thanks DYNAMITE®!

Master Nibs & Laura

Master Nibs, a 10 yr. old Morgan gelding, literally glows with the unmistakable DYNAMITE® sheen even with his Colorado fall coat! The Master is in a boarding facility where he receives his daily cup TNT™ along with grass hay and pasture and that's it. Laura, his owner who is shown on him, says he has the best coat in the whole facility and that people have a hard time believing that is all he's receiving.

When Laura brought him home 4 years ago, she was new to horses, but by listening carefully to both him and me (especially about TNT™), she has grown into a horsewoman. The other day, the Master slipped on some ice but seemed to be OK. The next day though, when she was riding, he started swishing his tail, flicking his ears, bobbing his head and stretching his neck; very unusual behavior for him, especially since feeling so great on the TNT™. A fellow rider told Laura to just "ride him through his attitude problem" but she said "No" and took him back to the barn where she called her equine chiropractor. Sure enough, the Master had a whither and knee out of whack.

What a terrific lesson for each of us to listen to our horse!
